HUMANATIC
Dec 2020 - May 2022

English Transcriptionist
Humanatic is a company that offers crowd sourced audio transcription and data categorization services. It was founded in 2011 and is headquartered in San Francisco, California.

The company's platform allows individuals to sign up as "call reviewers" and listen to audio recordings of customer service calls, then categorize the calls based on specific criteria such as the reason for the call or the customer's level of satisfaction. This data is then used by businesses to analyze and improve their customer service.
